Remembering E.H. Johnson

A collection of memories, anecdotes and comments by the contemporaries of E.H. Johnson, compiled and edited by Marjorie Ross. This overview of Dr. Johnson's lifelong involvement in mission provides insights into how his contemporaries saw him, and gives a perspective on the issues that preoccupied the church in the mid twentieth century.

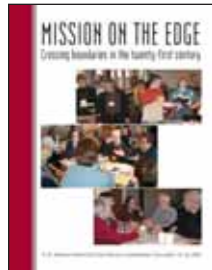

The Cutting Edge of Mission Volume 2

Contains the texts of addresses given by E.H. Johnson Award Recipients (1993-2002) at the General Assembly luncheons. These are powerful insights on faith and mission from eleven remarkable servants of God.

Mission on the Edge Crossing Boundaries in the 21st Century

The report of the mission consultation held in November 2003 to mark the 20th Anniversary of the Dr. E.H. Johnson Memorial Fund. These are the reflections of Canadian Presbyterians who are themselves intensely involved in mission. The appendix brings together reflections on mission made in our church by similar gatherings in 1972, 1983, and 1996. A study guide is included for congregational use.

The Dr. E.H. Johnson Memorial Fund

The Presbyterian Church in Canada

The Dr. E.H. Johnson Memorial Fund was established to honour the work and the missionary spirit of E.H. (Ted) Johnson

Ted Johnson was first, last and always a missionary, serving with his wife, Kitty, in Manchuria, northeast China, until 1941. He served as Secretary for Overseas Missions of The Presbyterian Church in Canada from 1954 until 1972, and then as Secretary for Research and Planning.

His vision and intense engagement with mission issues had a profound influence on the mission policy of our church, which continues to this day.

Ted Johnson was always out ahead of his contemporaries, urging the church to undertake new challenges. For that reason his friends and family established this fund which promotes the importance and significance of “the cutting edge of mission.”

Fund Activities

The Dr. E.H. Johnson Memorial Fund:

1. Presents an annual Award recognizing outstanding mission leadership in the global Christian Community.
2. Sponsors the E.H. Johnson Luncheon, a mission highlight of each year's General Assembly.
3. Funds exchanges between The Presbyterian Church in Canada and its partner Churches abroad.
